TEN CENTS PER WEEK

ONE GIRL CLEANS UP MECHANICSBURG IN WATCH CONTEST

Nearly Three Hundred Loads of Trash are Collected in City

Second and Third in Contest Are Crowding First

PLENTY OF TIME FOR WINNING

Elizabeth Starrett, 216 Ashbrook avenue, 126 loads.
James Conley, 1025 South Third street, 89 loads.
James Todd, 428 South Third street, 55 loads.
Robert Mills, 324 South Fourth street, 34 loads.
John Wright, 9 loads.
Laverne Purcell, 324 North Fifth street, 3 loads.
Joe Armstrong, 1123 Trimble street, 2 loads.
May Pittman, 218 Clark street, 3 loads.
Tom Kopp, 615 North Fifth street, 1 load.

Interest in the contest for the gold watch, offered by Mayor Smith for the largest trash pile accumulated by one child is increasing daily. Already 298 loads have been collected by the street department. One girl has just about cleaned up Mechanicsburg by enlisting her friends in her behalf; but there is time for other contestants to pass her record, if their friends will help. The contest closes April 30.

Any residents who clean their premises may call the city street department, and Ernest Bell, the street inspector, will have the trash hauled away free of charge and at the same time will credit the work to any child the resident may desire.

Miss Elizabeth Starrett is in the lead, and she is working hard to prevent any of the contestants passing her record. Every afternoon after school Miss Starrett visits the homes in Mechanicsburg and induces the property owners to clean up vacant lots as well as residence property and give her credit for it. By her efforts some of the houses that have been partially destroyed by fire have been cleared of the debris. Street Inspector Bell this morning said that nearly all Mechanicsburg had been given a thorough cleaning by her efforts.

James Conley is second in the race with 89 loads to his credit, and he is still working. James Todd is third from the top with 55 loads of trash that have been hauled off, and Robert Mills is fourth with 33 loads to his credit.

After school hours is a splendid opportunity for the children to visit the homes of their friends and induce them to clean up and pile the trash in a convenient place near the alley or street. By notifying the street department the boy or girl can assure the property owner that they will see that the trash will be removed.

Government Takes Vigorous Steps To Protect Christian Armenians From Assassination in Asia Minor

Reports to Christian Herald and From Foreign Officers Corroborate Stories of Massacre—In Turkey.

Washington, April 23.—In view of alarming dispatches from Turkey advising the state department of danger to Americans in the disturbed regions, steps were taken by President Taft today to secure the cooperation of the foreign governments who are closely in touch with Turkey to ascertain what measures are taken for the protection of missionaries and Christian Armenians.

Despatches to the state department from Teheran, Persia, today indicate that foreigners in the vicinity of Tabriz are in grave danger. Massacre is imminent, Minister Jackson says. Foreigners are not allowed to leave Tabriz. Jackson informed the department he is powerless to help the situation. The American ambassador at St. Petersburg was instructed to indicate informally to Russia that the United States must rely upon them for protection of American citizens in Persia.

Aid for Christians.

New York, April 23.—The Christian Herald received a communication today from W. W. Peet, Constantinople agent of the American Bible society, appealing for aid for the stricken Christians. Peet cabled that conditions in Asia Minor are not exaggerated. He says thousands are killed and thousands wounded and entire towns are without food.

Terrible Suffering.

Mersina, April 23.—Mersina, Berejek, Adana and other towns are suffering from the massacre of Christians. Foreign officers were rushed here to stop the uprising. ### Special Term in Calloway.

Murray, Ky., April 23. (Special).—A special term of court to try the Calloway county night rider cases probably will be called by Judge Cook for some time in July, according to a statement made by the court after these cases had been continued at the present term. Judge Cook and J. T. Hanberry have a list of speaking appointments in this county, covering every day and night next week, and it is likely that court will adjourn Saturday unless a special judge is called for to continue the session.

Attorney D. H. Hughes, of Paducah, has been selected by agreement of parties to try the suit filed by defeated candidates at the Democratic primary who are seeking to have the election set aside because of alleged irregularities.

Hubert Holt, 16-year-old son of Ben Holt, of near Hico, was drowned in a creek near his home yesterday. The boy was afflicted with epilepsy and was stricken with a fit while crossing the stream.

The trial of Victor Jones who was indicted jointly with his brother Fred for the killing of Will Lewis, was begun in circuit court yesterday. The sentence of five years given Fred Jones, was considered light by the general public.

Helen Westlake Kidnaped.

Wickliffe, Ky., April 23.—(Special).—Helen Westlake, important witness for the state in the prosecution of John Bulger, charged with robbing the Ballard County bank at Bandana, has been kidnaped and Patrolman Will Baker can't find her. It is believed she is concealed somewhere and being held for ransom, as the defense assumes to be as mystified as the prosecution in the disappearance. The state expected to prove that the defendants counted the loot at her resort in Paducah after the robbery. Rosy Rice and Ida Morris, of Paducah, and Irene Roy, of St. Louis, are here to testify.

The defense concluded at 2 o'clock. The defense is an alibi. Bulger and Will Husbands, who were seen riding together the night of the robbery, said they were out for a pleasure drive.

The other cases were continued until next August.

Government Calls Soapmakers.

Buffalo, April 23.—Otto Laube, F. J. Arthur and Charles Harris, three soap manufacturers, have been subpoenaed to go before the federal grand jury and tell what they know of the operations of the American Naval Stores company. ### LABOR EXCHANGE.

New York, April 23.—The National Employment Exchange, which the promoters claim will cure the ills of the usual labor bureau, was incorporated here with the financial backing of the Russell Sage foundation, Hariman, Archibald, Gary and others. The plan is to solve the unemployed situation here by finding positions for unskilled labor in the west and south. Promoters declare they will institute branches in every part of the United States.

MORE TOBACCO IN PADUCAH THAN IN PREVIOUS YEARS

"More tobacco was brought into Paducah yesterday and today than in any other two days during the last fifteen years," said a prominent tobacco man, who has been in touch with conditions here during that time.

He estimated that more than 300,000 pounds were brought here. Besides the 54,000 pounds sold at Bohmer's loose leaf warehouse, the Italian buyers received about 150,000 pounds under contract, the American Snuff company received about 110,000 pounds and Hodge and O'Brien received large quantities each.

Wagon yards were overcrowded and those who could not find accommodations at the Western District warehouse and other convenient places, were forced to leave their tobacco outdoors all night.

At the loose leaf warehouse, which is getting three and four cents over the Louisville market price, there were no rejections today, and the medium tobacco offered brought from $3.90 to $3.75. E. J. O'Brien, of Louisville, was on the floor, in addition to the local buyers.

The warehouse has received orders for 50 hogsheds to be shipped to Aurora, Ky., to be filled and shipped back.

The sales tomorrow probably will not be as large as today's sales.

Irony of Fate

Wickliffe, Ky., April 23. (Special).—It is believed that John Dunlap, the Paducah contractor, who was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for obtaining money by false pretenses from the Methodist church here, will secure a new trial, and not be compelled to serve the term. Steps are now being taken to make good the $1,000 complained of. It is an interesting fact that Dunlap built the court house, in which he was tried and convicted. It is a nice court house, too.

Roosevelt's Start

Makindu, British East Africa, April 23.—The special train, bearing Roosevelt towards Nairobi, reached here this morning after a slow trip from Mombasa. A number of American missionaries were waiting in the station to greet Roosevelt. Breakfast was served here and the journey resumed.

Edward McCabe, Sr.

News was received here today by the family of Mr. R. C. Calissi, 933 Madison street, of the death of Mr. Edward McCabe, Sr., at Kirkwood, Mo., at 7 o'clock this morning.

Mr. McCabe is the father of Mr. Edward McCabe, Jr., of St. Louis, who married Miss Mabel Calissi of Paducah and is well known here. He is a prominent citizen of Kirkwood and had been ill since December, from a complication of diseases. The funeral will be held at Kirkwood on Sunday.

WEATHER.

Fair tonight with probably frost. Saturday fair and warmer. Highest temperature yesterday, 64; lowest today, 44. Rainfall .40 of an inch.

BURLINGTON RAILROAD IS BUYING RIGHT-OF-WAY INTO METROPOLIS, ILL.

Town is Agog Over Fact That Road Has Purchased Some Valuable Property Along River Front There.

CLOSING OPTIONS COMPANY HAS HELD ON LAND IN MASSAC COUNTY FOR THREE OR FOUR YEARS

News Creates No Surprise in Paducah, as Ultimate Intention of Railroad Has Been Anticipated.

(SPECIAL TO THE SUN.)

Metropolis, Ill., April 23.—Metropolis is greatly excited over the transfer of most of the best property along the river front in the last few days, and what information has been secured points to the Burlington railroad system as the probable purchaser. Options on all this property, and on other tracts, which afford a splendid right of way into this city, were secured by representatives of this road three, and some four years ago, and this week, they are being taken in and from $4,000 to $5,000 a day is being paid out to the different owners of the land. There is no disputing the fact that everything now indicates that active construction work will be started on one or two roads into this place in the next few months.

Men who are in a position to know state it as a positive fact that both Metropolis and Paducah would have had new roads long ago but for an agreement among the different systems not to touch these points for a certain term of years. That agreement expired last year, and work would have started then, but for the panic. The roads have been preparing the way for active work for months, and today the Burlington, the L. & N., the Frisco and the "Big Four" have their surveys made into Metropolis, and have only been awaiting the settling of financial conditions to begin construction work. That these roads have an agreement about this point is indisputable, and the agreement comprehends the erection of a bridge across the Ohio here. All the engineers who have studied the question have said that this is the best point for a bridge, and there is no doubt of its being built, as a part of the plans of these great systems.

No Surprise Here.

The above bit of information from Metropolis is not surprising to Paducah men who are in touch with what is and has been going on in connection with the extensions of the four systems, mentioned in the article, to Metropolis, and thence on to this city. The promoters of the Paducah Northern had these things in mind when they secured the franchise for the belt around the city and the terminals last year. They reasoned that as soon as business conditions warranted, active construction work would be begun on several of the extensions and they planned to have terminals here to offer any of them that should knock at Paducah's doors.

None of these roads will have to make much of an outlay to reach Metropolis. The Frisco is only six miles distant; the L. and N. is at Shawneetown, the Big Four fifty miles away and the Burlington but little further.

A study of the map of the roads will interest a Paducahan. The Paducah and Northern will bring these lines into Paducah; the L. and N. with the N. C. & St. L. branch, will have another line south from St. Louis, and the other lines will make traffic arrangements that will assure them entrance into the heart of Dixie.

Died When Rescue Arrived.

Joplin, Mo., April 23.—Buried yesterday beneath tons of rock in the M. and B. mine east of Joplin, Thomas Gibbs, operator of the mine, died just as the last shovel full of earth was removed this morning. His wife and daughter, who had been at the mine since the cave-in, collapsed when they heard of his death. The cave-in crushed and killed two others.

"Br'er Fox" Due Here.

"Br'er Fox II," in charge of M. B. Dean, Harry Daws and M. McLain, cutting through the waters of the Ohio at a rate of 25 to 27 miles an hour, is expected to arrive in this port some time between 3 and 5 o'clock. Br'er Fox left Cincinnati yesterday morning at 9 o'clock for New Orleans in an attempt to establish a new water speed record between these two cities. The distance is 1,554 miles and the boat is expected to make the run in 60 hours. To do this Br'er Fox will have to average 25 miles an hour. Br'er Fox is running only during the day.

MR. JOHN G. MILLER, JR., SPEAKS AT HIGH SCHOOL.

Illegal Voting Cases in Cairo Yesterday

After the Perjurers—Pure Ballot League Looking Up All Voters Sworn in at Election.

NUMBER UNUSUALLY SMALL

Cairo, Ill., April 23.—Seven men arrested on Tuesday charged with illegal voting at the city election were arraigned for preliminary hearing in Judge Coning's court. There were present as prosecutors States Attorney Wilson and members of the directing board of the pure ballot league as follows: W. B. Huette, president; T. C. Clendenen, secretary; T. J. and E. G. Kerth, W. D. Bannister, N. V. Lewis, Dr. Field, Dr. S. B. Cary, J. B. Magee, A. J. Reese, Chas. Feuchter, Douglas Halliday, John L. Parham, Chas. Cunningham, Henry Hasenjaeger, P. T. Langan.

There were a number of witnesses nearly all negroes, and a large audience, also nearly all negroes. The defendants had no attorney, but the prosecuting attorney and court gave them every opportunity to make a defense, calling for any witnesses they wished to have, and questioning them only with a view to getting at the truth, not to confuse or to involve them.

The defendants were all negroes, but one, James Fitch, who admitted that his home was in New Albany, Ind., where he said he had a wife and children. He admitted that he had voted here Tuesday and also at the primary election April 13th, and that he was to get a dollar for his vote, but was arrested before he got it. He could not tell who promised him the money. He was held to bail in the sum of $300.

The negroes were Henry Ellis, Henry Spencer, John Young, Wm. Cole, Chas. Johnson and Eddie Keys. Three of these were arrested at the Fifth ward pole and three at the First ward pole. Keys was the man who was taken from Constable Hudson by the crowd on election day, and Hudson got him the next day. It developed yesterday that Keys had a right to vote and he was discharged.

Chas. Johnson was also discharged. He had been arrested by Officer Casey at the First ward pole, not at the instance of the League. The officer stated at the hearing yesterday that he had learned the man was entitled to vote. The other defendants told varying stories. Two of them admitted they did not live in the wards where they voted, and two others called for witnesses to prove that they did live where they voted. The witnesses demanded were brought into court but failed to substantiate the prisoner's statements.

Members of the Pure Ballot League who had been active in connection with the arrests, Messrs. Kerth and Lewis in the Fifth ward, and Parham in the First ward testified.

Five of the prisoners were sent to the county jail under $300 bond each to appear before Judge Dewey. They will have a hearing there, and be fined and given short terms in the county jail.

Important Case Monday.

The case of John Wilson who was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John S. Alsthorpe, after he had come out of the First ward pole with a ballot in his pocket, will have a hearing Monday.

Attorney Leek has been employed to defend him. Wilson confessed when arrested that he had been sent in to steal a ballot and bring it to some one outside, for which he was to be paid, but the sum was not stipulated. It is understood that he will deny making such a statement and will contend that he acted through ignorance, having been told to go in and vote, and there being a number of people in the poll, with no one to tell him what to do with the ballot, he did not think it made any difference whether he voted it or not.

After Perjurers.

The league officers are not satisfied with catching these small-fry. They are after bigger game. They have procured lists of all the men who were sworn in at all the polls on Tuesday, which, by the way, are not nearly so large as at former elections; and they will trace the voter in each case. If any of them shall be found illegal, the League purposes to go after the men who swore them in, as well as the voters themselves, the purpose being to make men more careful about going on affidavits. While the ordinary illegal voter can be found guilty only of a misdemeanor, the man who swears falsely to an affidavit can be sent to the penitentiary for perjury.

Judge Gordon Arrested.

Spokane, Washington, April 23.—Judge M. J. Gordon, former counsel for the Great Northern railway, was arrested today on indictments charging embezzlement of funds from the railway company while acting as its attorney. His bond for appearance was fixed at $2,000.

Ely's Cream Balm has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine chest among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffling. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a top to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Daily Thought.
Enjoyment stops where indolence begins.—Pollock.

We never knew what a desperate character Hon. E. Barry, editor of the Benton Tribune-Democrat was, until we heard accounts of Bogard Wyatt's speech about him at Calvert City. We knew he is for the county unit bill, and that he gave the Beckham crowd, a lot of trouble while he was representative from the Lyon-Marshall district; but it would seem he was then trying only to make up for a life of misdeeds. According to Bogard, Judge Barry's career has been one long, bloody series of assassinations and crime. When he comes to Paducah we surely will arm ourselves. And, yet, he doth, indeed, appear the mildest mannered man that ever scuttled a ship or cut a throat.

TRUE FUNCTION OF THE PARTY ORGAN.

A Democratic contemporary says: "The only reason in the world that Kentucky has ever gone otherwise than Democratic in past elections has been solely because of divisions in the ranks which should have presented a solid front."

Of course, in a state which gave a majority of less than 10,000 in a presidential election with the majority party united, a mighty small reason will serve to overturn that majority on local issues, which makes it the more incumbent on the majority party to maintain its "ranks solid." Now, a party organ is inclined usually to look at its party, as a party, and all outside that party as aliens, whereas, in fact, Democrats and Republicans, we are all of one nation, breathing the same air, engaged in business together, affected alike by the same conditions, and requiring the same sort of government to promote our prosperity or retard our development. Being also intelligent beings, it follows that the most intelligent of us about election time, will consider which party offers the best men and best policies and vote for the best man. Anyone, who does not do so either is not intelligent or is not a good citizen.

Taking this view of it, that the overwhelming majority of Democratic votes are cast by citizens, who desire only good government, and not by Democratic politicians, who desire only the offices and the usufruct thereof, we shall now proceed to show the party organ we have quoted that the Democratic newspapers of the state are to blame for the fact, that a Democratic majority was reversed and is more liable to reversals in the future by reasons of the schisms already created.

For the same reason that most people belong to the same church and political party that their fathers did, the political paper continues in its reprehensible misconception of the proper functions of a party organ. If a newspaper wishes its party always to win, it should first desire its party to be right. But instead of devoting its efforts to keeping its party on the right track, the average organ will permit the grossest corruption to go unnoticed within its party and the offices in control of its party, and direct its attacks to the opposing party. When the opposing minority party wins, should not that fact be evidence enough to the party organ wherein the trouble lies?

If the true party organ would direct its attention to keeping its own house in order and putting the best men on the ticket, and driving from the high places corrupt men, instead of defending their cause, an organ of the majority party would never be forced to explain why the minority party wins the offices.

AN UNPERFORMED DUTY.
The outcome of the trial in Paducah wherein the negro victims of the Birmingham aid of last year obtained a judgment of $25,000 against the members of the mob, whom they sued in the United States court for civil damages, ought to please everybody who has the slightest regard for the principles of law and the integrity of justice, says the Courier-Journal.

The raid in question was a flagrant example of rabid lawlessness. The complexion of the victims had nothing to do with the merits of the case. Most of the outrages perpetrated by night riders in the past two years were inflicted upon whites. The whites were entitled to protection, which they did not get. In like manner, the negroes around Birmingham were entitled to protection, which they did not get. They were, instead, the prey of a gang of criminals who overrode the law, made themselves instruments of oppression, killed and maimed and burned. Of course, the victims should have recompense from those who so persecuted them—recompense which, in whatever sum it may come or through whatever medium it may be gained, can never wipe out the black stain which the raid itself has fixed upon the records of the state.

The judgment should not, under any circumstances, be allowed to lapse. The guilty raiders should be made to pay for their diabolical frolic of last spring. It will be good not only for their spirit but for the spirit of all others who have engaged in the sinister festivities of night riding or who may feel an impulse to so engage in future. The men who participated in the Birmingham raid undoubtedly have today a higher respect for the law they defied than they did last week. They now realize that, after all, law is not quite so huge a joke as they thought it, nor so negligible a quantity as they suspected. They are in a mood, doubtless, to give to their neighbors and friends such advice as: "When you are tempted to transform yourself into a mob, that is the time not to do so." It is questionable whether the defendants got $25,000 worth of fun out of their lawlessness.

It is a great thing for any group of the population to learn, after having loose ideas on the subject, that law is a serious proposition, that government actually means something and that in our land men are not supposed to have the freedom to murder, terrorize, maim and destroy at will. The judgment in Paducah will help to spread in the public mind a realization of the truth. Of course, the delusion some persons harbored, and still harbor—that everything else violent and atrocious is against the law except night riding in its divers forms had its origin and derived support from the inactivity of certain local officers of the state government. So many outrages were committed with impunity that the notion that a night rider could do no wrong became rather prevalent. In some cases the state government has succeeded in correcting the mistake, but not in a sufficient number of cases. The judgment for the Birmingham negroes will prove a valuable educational medium, even though the court was not a state tribunal, but a federal one.

Meanwhile, one case stands out conspicuously to condemn the agents of the law in Kentucky.
In Nicholas county one night over a year ago Hiram Hedges, a tobacco planter, was killed in cold blood before the very eyes of his family by a band of night riders endeavoring to coerce him into doing their bidding instead of doing his own, as he had a right to do under the constitution.

Not in the history of the state was there ever crime more brutal, cowardly and malicious. Yet, for all that, his murderers are free. They have not been hunted out or touched by any agent of the law. They did their deed of blood with as suave and free a manner and as decided an immunity from punishment as if they had simply indulged in the lightest pastime of a pink tea.
Now, the powers of law in Kentucky have yet a duty to do. They have yet to address themselves to the capture and punishment of the assassins of Hiram Hedges, with all

ELEVENTH STREET GETS SIDEWALKS

Broadway Does Not In Board of Aldermen

Counter-Petition of Property Owners Prevails Against Demand of Those Beyond.

SHORT SESSION LAST NIGHT.

The board of aldermen last night ordered concrete sidewalks on Eleventh street between Broadway and Jefferson streets, but refused to concur in the action of the council board, ordering sidewalks on Broadway between Eleventh street and Fifteenth street.

Two petitions figured in the last proposition. Forty property owners beyond Fifteenth street, who were compelled to lay sidewalks last year, petitioned for the sidewalks to complete the work from the river to the city limits, and 32 property owners between Eleventh and Fifteenth streets protested against the improvement. About a half block on the south side west of Eleventh street belongs to the Illinois Central and has no sidewalk. Those who protested are: Mrs. C. G. Clark, T. C. Finley, J. W. McKnight, W. M. Riecke, Mrs. Emma Nelson, S. A. Willett, J. C. Scott, A. J. Willett, Miss Ida Nelson, Fred Runge, J. F. Smith, J. M. Rogers, Mrs. N. M. Kelly, A. B. Sowell, W. L. Young, T. C. Leech, Noble & Yelzer, J. Yelzer, L. P. Holland, C. A. Tindall, by C. E. Jennings, Mrs. Barbara Dieke, Mrs. L. V. Overby, Mrs. M. L. Burnett, by E. G. Boone, Mrs. B. Wolff, Miss J. Armstrong, Mrs. Marie Noble Sanders, Mrs. J. H. Fowler, Mrs. H. G. Tandy, G. W. Grief, Laura A. Fowler, F. C. Moequ and M. B. Rogers.

Aldermen Potter and Sherrill voted to order sidewalks and Aldermen Hanan, Oehlschlaeger, Stewart, Durrett, Hank and Lackey against it.
On motion of Alderman Potter the ordinance committee was instructed to bring in an ordinance compelling the traction company to run the Union station car to First street and Broadway.

The ordinance committee was instructed to bring in an ordinance providing for the improvement of Eleventh street between Broadway and Jefferson street with sidewalk, curb and gutter.

The Riverside hospital board notified the Aldermen that bids had been received for the improvement of the hospital and that Contractor Gus Lockwood was the lowest bidder. He bid $2,535. Mayor Smith was authorized to close a contract with Mr. Lockwood. The plans and specifications were drawn by Architect A. L. Lassiter.

Contracts were ordered to be closed with John A. Jewell & Son, of Cincinnati, and the Babcock-Wilcox company, of Pittsburgh, for the building of a brick stack and installation of new boilers at the city light plant. The cost to be about $4,100.

Thad Terrell reported that the patrol wagon house is in need of repairs. The matter was referred to the public improvement committee.

L. A. Washington, city engineer, was authorized to employ an assistant in the place of Mr. Robert Richardson who is going to Memphis.
Accounts and a half month's payroll were allowed, amounting to $3,702.95.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY.

Important Decision That Laevison's Temperance Is Absolutely Non-Intoxicating Beverage.

Another victory has been scored by A. M. Laevison & Co., bottling works regarding their mild drink, as T. Iselman, who is engaged in the sale of soft drinks, was indicted in the last session of the grand jury for selling malt liquors without procuring necessary license, and the case was tried before Circuit Court Judge Reed today and the jury decided that the sale of Laevison's Temperance and other mild drinks was not in violation of the law, and therefore no special state or county license was required, as it developed that the beverages handled by Iselman, including Temperance and other drinks prepared by Laevison & Co., were not intoxicating and the indictment was therefore dismissed.

This decision is of considerable importance to A. M. Laevison & Co. and their many customers throughout this vicinity who are handling these drinks, and they can now handle these soft beverages with further conclusive proof added to the heretofore favorable decisions rendered to Laevison & Co. that their Temperance and other soft drinks were non-intoxicating.

TEAM WILL PLAY THE LIGHT BUGS SUNDAY.
Game Will Be in Fast Meter From Start to Finish in the Morning.

An exciting game of baseball will be played Sunday morning at Wallace park by the Paducah Gas company baseball team and the team of the Paducah Light and Power company. Rivalry between the two teams is heated, and the game will be attended by a large crowd owing to the unusual conditions under which it will be played.

The gas company team has been named the "Hot Air" team, while the Light and Power has not selected a name yet. In the agreement, which was signed by the two teams it is stipulated that the captain of the losing team shall be ducked in the Wallace park lake by the winners. This article has stimulated the members of the team to practice regularly, and each team will try hard to win.

Charles Nicholson is captain of the Hot Air team, while J. E. Bingham is captain of the Light and Power team. Both teams will be selected from a large squad of amateur players.

CABANNE BOY'S MOTHER
Seen in St. Louis on the Day of His Disappearance.

St. Louis, April 23.—Mrs. James Shepard Cabanne, otherwise Mrs. Broughton Brandenburg, was seen in St. Louis by several friends of the family the day James Shepard Cabanne, III, disappeared from his home, No. 5256 Cabanne avenue, according to a statement today by a member of the household of Mrs. Julia Chepe Cabanne, at the above address. It is the first definite information showing upon what grounds the father of the missing boy bases his belief that his son was kidnapped by the boy's mother.

Friends of Mrs. Cabanne-Brandenburg declare that she has not appeared at any of their homes. If she is still in St. Louis with the boy she is not with any of her former friends, who express themselves as being willing to shelter her. However, there is no tangible evidence that she remained in St. Louis after the day of the boy's disappearance.

BRYCE HONORS JOHN CALVIN

Ambassador Denies, However, That Reformer Was Liberal.

Baltimore, April 23.—The principal speaker tonight at the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the birth of John Calvin was Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain.

After referring to the enormous influence of Calvin's views, Mr. Bryce said:

"But though Calvin was more than any one else the modern founder of a Republican system in the church," continued Mr. Bryce, "he was by no means a liberal in the modern sense of the word. He justified and approved in practice religious persecution, as indeed did nearly all the great reformers of the sixteenth century, and he held the state bound to obey in many things the orders of the church. Not till long after his time was the doctrine that the state and the church ought to be entirely distinct and that religious opinion should be entirely free proclaimed in England and in North America by Roger Williams, the illustrious founder of Rhode Island."

Will Not Answer.

Disestablishment Bill is in Change in Wales Church System Put Before Parliament.

London, April 23.—The long-promised bill for the disestablishment of the church in Wales was introduced in the house of commons today by Premier Asquith. For the last forty years Welshmen have been agitating in this direction. A vast majority of the people are non-conformists, and they will awaken to a most strenuous fight. The bill is sure to pass the house of commons, and it is sure to be opposed by the bishops in the upper house, where its fate is problematical. It proposes that the disestablishment become effective Jan. 1, 1911.

DENY NEW REBATING SCHEME

Washington, April 23.—Morris & Co., the Chicago beef packers, in replying to a recent letter written to the attorney-general, disclaim any intention to use their claims against the railroads for loss or damage to beef in transit as a device to secure rebates. The attorney-general in his letter stated in effect that investigation had disclosed the fact that certain packers, whether with unlawful intent or not, had obtained excessive damages for beef injured or lost, and said that the practice of overvaluing dressed beef transported and the use of such overvaluation as a basis for claims against the railroads where the beef is injured or destroyed in transit must be abandoned at once.

GETS HEAVY DOSE

FOR SELLING BOOZE—$200 AND 40 DAYS.

A Total of Over 540 Days is Now Recorded Against Little Black Johnny.

Mayfield, Ky., April 23.—Little Johnny Smith's troubles continue to increase instead of diminish. Thursday morning he was brought out of jail and arraigned before Justice E. L. Garnett on the charge of selling whisky. Two charges were preferred against him. He had no attorney and pleaded guilty on one of them, but declared that he was innocent in the other. The court then proceeded to have Johnny tried and a jury was summoned. In one case he was fined $100 and 40 days in jail and in the other one he was fined $100, making a total of 240 days, without mentioning the costs. About a week ago Johnny was taken in custody in East Mayfield by Policeman John Lewis. He had a suit case containing several bottles of "joy water," and later pleaded guilty in five cases, making a total of over 300 days in jail. Now comes 240 more days, which makes the number swell up to 540 days.

When the McMullen bill reached the house it was immediately referred to the committee on constitutional amendments.

TURKEY

entirely in the hands of ministers responsible to parliament.

Tewfik Pasha, grand vizier, has arranged a compromise with the chief of the Constitutional party, and this has been confirmed by the sultan personally to several Constitutionalists, who with utmost secrecy were introduced into the Yildiz Kiosk. In addition to promising to withdraw himself from administrative activities the sultan agrees to a change in the personal of the troops guarding the palace and the replacing of the Constantinople garrison by troops from the corps which haspractically invested the city for days.

While at present there is little fear of bloodshed within the city there is much to be feared from riots and massacres now sweeping many districts of the dominion. Newspaper extras issued announce that the crisis was past and this caused general relief.

The fleet sailed this afternoon for the Mediterranean ostensibly for maneuvers, but in reality as a guarantee that the investing army would meet with no opposition from the navy.

The sultan, or those acting in his behalf, have supplied the Constitutionalists with a list of the principal members of the palace guards which brought about the events of the last week.

It is understood that there would be no reprisals except that the palace officials implicated are to be dismissed. The cabinet offered to resign, but upon the advice of Grand Vizier Tewfik Pasha decided to remain in office for the present. The cabinet practically is a Young Turk cabinet, because the ministers who were appointed since April 13th are in no way disposed to do anything in opposition to the wishes of the committee of Union and Progress. The principal commanders of the army of investment and the garrison within the city, are acting together. Inman Pasha said today that the warships could be relied upon to support the parliament and the committee.

The Galata has published what purports to be a telegram from Monastir, saying that the provincial caliph has obtained from the highest ecclesiastical court of his jurisdiction a decision to the effect that the sultan is no longer capable of ruling over the faithful.

Higher Criticism and Rum Caused Downfall of the Rev. G. W. Briggs

The Rev. Dr. George Waverly Briggs, once the most famous Methodist preacher in Texas and known in a dozen states as the "Moody of the south," was a prisoner yesterday in the Jefferson Market police court on suspicion of having stolen a few miserable trinkets from a drug store. He attributes his downfall to four things—"higher criticism," the burning of his home, the loss of a manuscript in a railroad wreck and rum. He is a cousin of the Rev. D. Charles A. Briggs, whose heresy trial in the Presbyterian church several years ago was of international interest. The southern pastor read all that his famous cousin wrote, and strayed from the old beliefs which he had preached for twenty-five years. He might have been bishop of Texas but for this.

That was ten years ago. Last fall, at the age of fifty-eight, he was reconverted to the old faith in the Jerry McAuley Mission on Water street.

"I was a messenger without a message," he told them at the mission. "I left the church to go on the lecture platform, grew to believe that there was nothing in religion, and then my misfortunes came thick and fast. At first my lecture fees were enormous, much more than I had ever earned in the pulpit, and I became worldly and arrogant. Then my lecture bureau failed and I was left almost penniless. My house burned down and all my manuscripts but one were destroyed. They were my sole stock in trade. With the manuscript of a book I started for New York to seek a publisher. In a railroad wreck the manuscript was lost. That was the last straw. In my Christian years I could have borne all that and more with cheerfulness, but as an unbeliever I had no refuge except in liquor and I fled to that."

Convinced that he did have a message, the preacher recovered his old beliefs and only two months ago was sent to Boston to assist the Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman at revival meetings in Tremont Temple. The reclaimed heretic and drunkard addressed 7,000 men night after night and his preaching was one of the great features of the revival.

Just what happened to him in the next six weeks he doesn't know himself. He has not been drinking or using drugs. Detective Flynn, of the Central office saw him going from one pawn shop to another on Third avenue trying to raise money on some atomizers and arrested him on suspicion. The atomizers were identified as property taken from Henry Bohm-falk's pharmacy, No. 600 Third avenue. The old man could not explain why he had them.

Magistrate House adjourned the hearing until today, and released the prisoner under bond of $100, given by Chief Inspector Walter S. Mayer, of the New York postoffice.

"Dr. Briggs and I were boys together in Galveston, Tex., said Mayer, and I have always known him as a big man in my part of the country. He is a graduate of the university of Alabama, and was for five years the editor of the Southern Christian Advocate."

From the court Dr. Briggs went to No. 1028 Simpson street, the Bronx, where he and his wife and three sons are staying temporarily with Mrs. Briggs' sister.

When Supt. Wyburn, of the Water street mission, called there yesterday afternoon to see what he could do, Dr. Briggs covered his face with his hands and refused to see his old rescuer, saying that he was too much ashamed.—New York World.

COLORED SCHOOL FOR THIS STATE

Will Be Established Near Louisville

Prof. John Wirt Dinsmore, of Berea, is in Paducah in its interest.

SOME LETTERS HE CARRIES

Prof. John Wirt Dinsmore, of Berea college, is in the city in the interest of Lincoln Institute, the new colored school on the plan of Tuskegee, for which they are trying to raise $50,000 by popular subscription in order to secure $450,000 to start with. They will secure 1,000 acres of land in the vicinity of Louisville, and President Taft is expected to christen the spot in May.

The school probably will absorb the Eckstein Norton Institute.

Among the letters of indorsement which Professor Dinsmore carries are the following:

Governor Willson says:

My Dear President Frost:

I believe that your plan for an industrial school for the colored people is one of the greatest promises of usefulness, and sincerely hope it will succeed.

It is not a party matter, nor a selfish matter, but of most fundamental value to the entire commonwealth. It will not only be beneficial to the colored people, whose prosperity will be greatly increased, but it will also benefit all the people of the state in improving the intelligence and effectiveness of all the workers of this race.

And it will not merely affect its own students, but as these go out they will be an example leading all others to take more pride in skilled workmanship and more pleasure in the common occupations of life. Yours truly,

AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON.

"A High Money Value to Both Races."

My Dear President Frost:

From a business standpoint the proposed colored school would prove a most profitable investment.

The colored people will be given more pleasure in their work, and as they earn more they will buy more. Almost every line of business—the clothier, the grocer, the coal man, the manufacturer, the laborer, would benefit. The employer of domestic service or of other colored labor would be glad to pay higher wages for greater efficiency.

Should such a school be located near this city it would draw students from all parts of the state, who would trade here not only for themselves but for their families, and the equipment and maintenance of the school would, year in and year out, add to the trade and prosperity of Louisville. It has a high money value to both races.

C. C. STOLLI.

"A Pressing Necessity" Beyond

Computation.

My Dear President Frost:

You have in deepest sympathy and interest in the great work which you have undertaken to provide a school for the colored youth of Kentucky of the Booker Washington pattern. Such a school beyond all question, is a pressing necessity. No school of this type exists within a radius of several hundred miles. This school, when established will fill a much needed want in its facilities in training young colored men and women as teachers and industrial workers. It will increase the efficiency of those who take advantage of its training beyond computation.

I heartily endorse your efforts and commend your purpose to those who would improve the prospects and efficiency of the negro race.

Wishing you every success, I am, faithfully yours,

CHARLES E. WOODCOCK.

This Spring We Are Going Right Ahead

with the campaign that proved so successful last season. That is we are again featuring our men's and young men's suits at $20. We are daily convincing careful buyers that in tailoring, taste, class and quality these suits have never been equaled for less than $25 to $28. Every fabric is tested and shrunk; they're made by the same tailors and with the same care as to fit and workmanship that goes into our finer clothing.

We Are Already Doing a Larger Volume

of business this season than ever before, and when we state this fact you will understand our values must of necessity be totally new and unequaled. We again renew our invitation to visit us and see these things with your own eyes. A lot of spring suits have arrived to fill the gap caused by our heavy Easter business.

STATE BANKS

WILL BE CALLED ON FOR STATEMENTS IRREGULARLY.

Secretary of State Ben Bruner Will Not Let Them Know at What Times.

Frankfort, Ky., April 23.—Secretary of State Ben L. Bruner decided to abandon the old custom of calling on banks and trust companies for their statements at the end of each quarter, and will call upon them at any time, as in the case of National banks, for a statement showing the condition at any date during the year. The following is a letter he has prepared to notify the banks and trust companies of his change in plans: "The policy of this department in the future will be not to call for statements of banks and trust companies at the close of each quarter, but will be to call at different times during the year and the next call will be a back date.

"For instance, I will call say on February 29 for the condition that your books show your institution was in on February 12. When I make this call on the 20th your report must be in this office within five days from the date of the call, as I intend to enforce section 594 of the Kentucky statutes to the letter, for there are certainly too many banks that carelessly neglect and pay no attention to their reports.

"Although I sent an urgent letter March 20, men actually confess by their letters they are writing in here that they did not even read the call. My intention is to put the state banking business on a footing with national banks, and with the proper cooperation it will be no trouble to do this."

Dr. Bruner intends to furnish every bank in the state with a book of laws governing banks and if the bankers do not pay attention to his call he intends to have them indicted.

—Miss Rosa Meigan, the 12-year-old daughter of Engineer and Mrs. James Meigan, of 1000 South Fourth street, was thrown from her pony while riding near home yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock and was rendered unconscious for several minutes. Dr. J. D. Robertson was called to attend the injured girl.

"Lee has made a strike—a wonderful strike—richer than the Klondike. I came as fast as I could, because tomorrow everybody will know about it, and it will be too late."

"Too late for what?"

"For us to get in on it, of course. Oh, but won't there be a stampede? Why, all the people bound for Dawson on the next boat will pile off here. Then the news will go up river and down river, and thousands of others will come pouring in from everywhere, and this will be a city. Then we will stake our town lots and sell them for ever so much money and go around with our noses in the air."

"Hold on! Hold on!" said the soldier, stopping her breathless patter. "Tell me all about this."

"Well, 'No Creek' came in this morning to tell dad and Poleon. Then the boat arrived with an old friend of Lee's, a Mr. Stark, so Lee told him, too, and now they're all gone back to his creek to stake more claims. They slipped away quietly to prevent suspicion, but I knew there was something up from the way Poleon acted. So I made Alluna tell me all about it. They haven't more than two hours' start of us, and we can overtake them easily."

"We! Why, we are not going!"

"Yes, we are," she insisted impatiently. "You and I. That's why I came, so you can get a mine for your self and be a rich man, and so you can help me get one. I know the way. Hurry up!"

"No," said he in as firm a tone as he could command. "In the first place, these men don't like me, and they don't want me to share in this."

"What do you care?"

"In the second place, I'm not a miner. I don't know how to proceed."

"Never mind. I do. I've heard nothing but mining all my life."

"In the third place, I don't think I have the right, for I'm a soldier. I'm working for Uncle Sam, and I don't believe I ought to take up mining claims. I'm not sure there is anything to prevent it, but neither am I sure it would be quite the square thing. Are you?"

"Why, of course it's all right," said Necla, her eager face clouding with the look of a hurt child. "If you don't do it somebody else will."

But the lieutenant shook his head. "Maybe I'm foolish, but I can't see my way clear, much as I would like to."

"Oh, dear, oh, dear!" she exclaimed suddenly. "I do so want to go. I want you to be rich, and I want to be rich myself. I want to be a fine lady and go outside and live like other girls. Why, it means heaven to a girl like me!" Her eyes were wet with the sudden dashing of her hopes, and her chin quivered in a sweet, girlish way that made the youth almost surrender on the instant.

"We couldn't possibly overtake them if we tried," he said, as if willing to treat with his conscience.

"No, but we could beat them in. I know where Lee is working, for I went up last winter with Constantine and his dog team over a short cut by way of Black Bear creek. You see, his creek makes a great bend to the southward and heads back toward the river, so by crossing the divide at the source of Black Bear you drop into it a few miles above his cabin."

While she made this appeal Burrell fought with himself. There were reasons why he longed to take this trip more than he had longed for anything since boyhood. These men of Flambeau had disregarded him and insisted on treating him with contemptuous distrust despite his repeated friendly overtures, wherefore he was hungry to beat them at their own game, hungry to thrust himself ahead of them and compel them to reckon with him as an equal, preferring a state of open enmity if necessary to this condition of indifferent toleration. Moreover, he knew that Necla was coveted by half of them, and if he spent a night in the woods alone with her it would stir them up a bit, he fancied. By heaven, that would make them sit up and notice him! But, then, it might work a wrong upon her. And yet would it? He was not so sure that it would. She had come to him, she was old enough to know her mind, and she was but a half breed girl, after all, who doubtless was not so simple as she seemed. Other

"Then get your pack made up," she ordered, "for we must be well up toward the head of Black Bear creek before it grows dark enough to camp."

Swiftly he made his preparations. A madhouse was upon him now, and he took no pains to check or analyze the reasons for his decision. The thought of her loveliness in his arms once more far up among the perfumed wooded heights as the silent darkness stole upon them stirred in him such a fret to be gone that it was like a fever. He slipped away to the barrens with instructions for his corporal, but was back again in a moment. Finally he took up his burden of blanket and food, then said to her:

"Well, are you ready, little one?"

"Yes, Meade," she answered simply. "And you are sure you won't regret it?"

"Not while you love me."

He kissed her again before they stepped out on the river trail that wound along the bank.

Two hours later they paused where the foaming waters of Black Bear creek roared down across a gravelled bar and in the silent, sweeping river, standing at the entrance to a wooded, grassy valley, with rolling hills and domes displayed at its head, while back of them lay the town, six miles away, its low, squat buildings tiny and toylake, but distinctly silhouetted against the evening sky.

"Is it not time to rest?" said the soldier laughingly, yet with a look of yearning in his misty eyes as he took the girlish figure in his arms. But she only smiled up at him and, releasing his hold, led the way into the forest.

(To be continued in next issue.)

Shortly after Mr. Gladstone's death a local politician delivered an address upon the life of the statesman before a school. When he had finished, he said, "Now, can any of you tell me what a statesman is?" A little hand went up, and a little girl replied, "A statesman is a man who makes speeches." "Hardly that," answered the politician, who loved to tell this story. "For instance, I am not a statesman." The little hand again went up. "I know," and the answer came triumphantly, "A statesman is a man who makes good speeches."—Christian Register.

Senate Passes Resolution to Adjourn
Sine Die May 15, But Will Be Reconsidered April 29.

THE STATE FAIR MEASURE

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—The senate passed the joint resolution introduced in that body last week by Senator Curtis providing for a sine die adjournment on May 15. One string was tied to the resolution however, a motion to reconsider being made and consideration being postponed until April 29. A motion by Senator Cruckshank to tie the resolution up in the senate by laying it over until May 15 was defeated by a vote of 29 to 13 in favor of tabling his resolution. Governor Deneen and Speaker Sturteff both favor a sine die adjournment instead of a long recess being taken.

In the house the bond bill providing for changing the ratio of assessment in the state from one-fifth of the actual value of property to one-third of the actual value, in order that cities may issue more bonds was advanced to third reading, after an amendment providing that cities and other municipalities shall vote on the bond issue before bonds can be issued, was tabled.

Speaker Sturteff took the floor in favor of the bill.

G. H. Wilson's bill making it a felony to sell or buy grain stuffs and other food stuffs without an actual delivery of the goods being made, was introduced in the house and referred to the committee on judiciary. Chipfield, chairman of that committee, said he would do all in his power to have the bill reported out favorably.

The State Fair Bill.
Blair's house bill providing for the removal of the state fair from Springfield to Peoria came upon the order of second reading in the house. Frank Quinn, of Peoria, spoke for the bill and Major James A. Connolly, Congressman Graham and Ex-Governor Yates against. The house reading with action. It will come up for passage in its due order of bills on third reading.

THE INDIAN MEDICINE MAN can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle our most skilled physicians, who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field originated Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty years has proved more potent and efficacious in curing female ills than any combination of drugs known.

An Irishman on board a man-of-war was ordered to haul in a tow line. After pulling in forty or fifty fathoms he muttered to himself: "Surely it's as long as today and tomorrow. It's a good week's work for any five in the ship. Bad luck to the leg or arm it'll leave at last. What more of it yet? Och, murder! The say's mighty deep, to be sure!" After continuing in a similar strain, he suddenly stopped short, and, addressing the officer, exclaimed, "Bad manners to me, sir, if I don't think somebody's cut off the other end of it! It's missing."—Christian Register.

DICKINSON KIN NOTED IN SOUTH

Secretary of War Descends
From Felix Grundy

William E. Curtis Describes Incidents in Lives of Famous Men of Times.

ABLE DEFENDER OF JACKSON.

(William E. Curtis in Chicago Record-Herald.)

Nashville, Tenn.—There were giants in those days at Nashville—Andrew Jackson, Sam Houston, John Bell, Thomas H. Benton, John Overton, Felix Grundy, Hugh L. White, David McComb, James K. Polk and others of lesser stature—a group greater than was ever gathered in any other city in this land except Washington. Secretary and Mrs. Dickinson trace their descents to several of them, while their aunts and uncles and cousins and other collateral relatives have inter-married with the descendants of the rest. The Dickinsons are thus of kin to nearly all the substantial old families of central Tennessee.

Felix Grundy, Secretary Dickinson's great-grandfather, was reckoned as the greatest lawyer of his time, and rivaled Henry Clay as an orator. He assisted to frame the constitution of two states and was chief justice of the supreme court of two states, Kentucky and Tennessee. He was the intimate friend of Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun, Daniel Webster and Martin Van Buren at one and the same time, which indicates the versatility of his affections and the tact and frankness of the man.

He was born in Berkeley county, Virginia, in 1777. His father was a rover who lived a little time in one place and then in another and finally settled in Kentucky, where he and three of his sons were killed by the Indians. Under these conditions it was impossible for Felix Grundy to have the benefits of a continuous education, and his mother, who seems to have been a woman of rare qualities, taught him nearly all that he learned in youth. But he managed to study law and was admitted to the bar when he was 20 years of age; at 22 was a member of the Kentucky constitutional convention; at 30 was chief justice of the state. After his first term he removed to Nashville, where he could find a wider field. He had been there only two years when he was elected to the national house of representatives, where he served through the war of 1812. In 1829 he was elected to the senate of the United States, serving till 1839, when he resigned to become attorney general in the Van Buren cabinet. He was a strong supporter of the Jackson administration, believed in a tariff for revenue only, and was bitterly opposed to protection.

SPAGHETTI AS AN ARTICLE OF DIET

Spaghetti is becoming more and more appreciated for its wonderfully nourishing quality and its unlimited cooking usefulness. People can do the hardest kind of work on a spaghetti diet. In fact, spaghetti entirely replaces meat in many homes—more than fulfilling every requirement for tastiness, nutrition and variety, at a price wholly inconceivable. You're never at a loss to serve it a new way—from soup to dessert. So adaptable that you'll be constantly discovering different ways of preparing it. Sold by nearly all grocers—five and ten cents a package.

Book of over twenty Faust Spaghetti recipes will be sent you free on request.

Senator Grundy was a very stout man, short of stature, and weighed more than 300 pounds, being larger than the late David Davis; but had most agreeable manners, and was as famous as a conversationalist as an orator. He was extremely popular with the common people, and the reminiscences, biographies and histories of early days in Tennessee are filled with anecdotes about him.

He was selected by the city of Nashville to deliver an address of welcome to General Jackson when the latter returned from the Florida wars to his home, May 16, 1814—after which," says the Nashville

Whig, "General Jackson and Mr. Grundy were conducted to the Bell tavern and partook of a collation prepared for the occasion."

Mr. Grundy also delivered the address of welcome in behalf of the citizens of Nashville, April 5, 1815, when General Jackson returned from the battle of New Orleans. According to the Whig, he "recounted in glowing periods the leading events of the last campaign. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed."

Felix Grundy's most famous oration was delivered on the death of Thomas Jefferson. His last speech was delivered in support of Martin Van Buren against William Henry Harrison, in 1840, and he died a few days later.

Felix Grundy and Thomas H. Benton were opposing counsel in a murder trial at Nashville in 1810—the former defending and Benton prosecuting a man named Magness, who shot a neighbor named Patten Anderson, who, as he believed, was about to attack his father. The case was very sensational, and similar in several respects to the recent Cooper-Carmack tragedy, involving important political questions, and nearly every person in the state was a partisan on one side or the other. The homicide was committed in the presence of Andrew Jackson, who was the principal witness for the prosecution, and during the trial occurred some of the incidents which have been repeated about him ever since. James Parton, in his "Life of Andrew Jackson," says:

"The feelings of all parties were aroused to the highest pitch of excitement, and the affair seemed to resolve itself, at last, into a contest between the partisans and the opponents of General Jackson. One of my informants remembers seeing General Jackson, after dinner one day, haranguing the multitude from the piazza of the tavern with fearful vehemence, the orator being evidently a little worse for drink. One of the Magness party, going by at the time, thought proper to indicate his opinion of something that General Jackson said by shrugging his shoulders and saying: 'Pshaw!' Jackson paused in his speech and looked around for the utterer of the contemptuous interjection, saying:

"Who dares to say pshaw at me? By —! I'll knock any man's head off, who says pshaw at me!"

NOTHING TO PAY.

Hyomei is Guaranteed to Cure Catarrh or Money Back.

When you suffer horribly from catarrh and are constantly sniffing and snuffing, hawking and spitting, and doing other disgusting things, remember there is a certain cure, called Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mey), which is guaranteed to cure.

Hyomei will give joyful relief to any catarrh sufferer in five minutes and it gives remarkable relief to constipations.

Hyomei is medicated air prepared from the extracts taken from the giant eucalyptus trees of inland Australia, where catarrh or consumption are never known.

You breathe in this healing and antiseptic air through an inhaler and this air, with its peculiar soothing properties, passing over the inflamed and germ ridden membrane (for catarrh is a germ disease), kills the germ, allays the inflammation, and in a short time completely cures the disease.

A complete Hyomei outfit, which includes a hard rubber inhaler that will last a lifetime, and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1.00, extra bottles cost 50 cents. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Paducah by Gilbert's drug store who guarantees it on the money back plan.

MI-ONA Cures Indigestion

It relieves stomach misery, sour stomach, belching, and cures all stomach disease or money back. Large box of tablets 50 cents. Druggists in all towns.

The offender walked on and General Jackson finished his furious speech.

BOY IS MISSING

FOLLOWING RECEIPT OF A THREATENING LETTER.

Cincinnati Police Fear Twelve-Year-Old Leo Mulhern Has Been Kidnaped.

Cincinnati, April 23.—Leo Mulhern, the 12-year-old son of Mrs. John Mulhern, 413 West Fifth street is missing, following the receipt by his mother of two letters threatening to kidnap the boy. The police, to whom the boy's disappearance was reported today fear that they have another Willie Whita case to solve.

This afternoon Mrs. Mulhern received a third letter saying that the boy had been kidnaped and that he would not be returned to his home until she deposited the money at the place designated in the former letters.

Money Comes in Bunches.

to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness, and general debility," he writes. "I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infallible for Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Blood and Nerves. 50c at all druggists.

SAYS HE RAN A LOTTERY.

Piano Voting Contest Gets Promoter in Trouble.

Hattiesburg, Miss., April 23.—H. D. Dyer, who conducted a piano voting contest in this city for a number of local merchants was today arraigned before Justice Bolton and bound over to the grand jury charged with operating a lottery. The section of the Mississippi code relating to lotteries reads:

"If any person in order to raise money for himself or another, or in any purpose whatsoever, shall publicly or privately put up a lottery to be drawn or advertised for, he shall on conviction be imprisoned in the penitentiary not exceeding five years."

Judge Bolton construes the statute so as to include voting contests as adventuring for gain. Inasmuch as voting contests have recently been conducted by nearly all of the daily papers of the state the result of this case in the circuit court will be awaited with interest.

Dyer was recently bound over to the grand jury in a similar bond to answer a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The affidavits were made by ladies contestants, and the case has attracted much local attention.

COL. ISAAC TAYLOR IS DEAD

Original Lakes-to-Gulf Advocate Expires at Peoria, Ill.

Peoria, Ill., April 2.—Colonel Isaac Taylor, the conceiver of the lakes-to-gulf deep water way idea, died here today at the age of 74 years from an attack of heart failure, brought on by overexertion in the recent city campaign. Colonel Taylor was then elected assessor.

While serving on the canal board under Governor Richard J. Oglesby, Colonel Taylor evolved the deep water way idea, and it was his lifelong ambition to see the work started, if not completed. He did much to advance the scheme while president of the canal commission under Governor John R. Tanner.

Colonel Taylor was born at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., April 22, 1834, coming to Illinois when a small boy. He went to Minnesota before the civil war and enlisted in the Twelfth Minnesota and rose to a captaincy. He was imprisoned in Andersonville and made his escape. He returned to Peoria and since held many offices. He was a life-long Republican.

BOY IN SHOP GREAT PROBLEM

The Great Advantages of Manual Training.

Each School Should Be Equipped With Facilities—Wonderful Possibilities.

THE PAPER BY PROF. SIMPSON

(By Frances C. Simpson, Teacher of Science, Semple Collegiate School, Louisville.)

The future usefulness of the student as a citizen is becoming more and more a responsibility for those who have in charge the education of our youth. The wonderful possibilities in a young life, and the development of these powers, incite true teachers to great efforts in educational work which may, in the end, bring the greatest good to the greatest number.

Ninety per cent of the population begins to earn a living at factory age, or at about 14 years. We have had a recent occurrence, in public life, of a man being offered the presidency of a New York bank with $200,000,000 of deposits, a position of tremendous responsibility, who as a boy of 14, the son of a poor widow, worked in a machine shop near Chicago at 75 cents a day; and all this accomplished within thirty years. He may have increased his salary one hundred times, he may have developed his business acumen to its greatest, but he has done more than these in enabling a teacher to see in the bright-eyed intelligent little fellows in her classes many a Vanderbilt, and she redoubles her efforts in securing for these children the greatest possible advantages.

When one realizes that a large number of this 90 per cent of struggling young workers are earning a living with their hands chiefly, it is high time to give a manual training course in our elementary schools that will enable the student to have the most intelligent choice of vocation, so that years may not be wasted before the boy is properly adjusted to the work best suited to him.

Shop Makes the Man.

Many a boy who has been a problem both at home and at school emerges into a new life, satisfactory to all, if the shop he enters be the right one. The skill he acquires in school may soon be left behind the more exacting requirements of shopwork, but there is no loss of valuable time in adjustment.

Manual training is the most important, far-reaching and satisfactory work that enters into an elementary education, if this work is properly done.

If these motor activities of the hand, which are set in operation, guided and controlled by the mind, were more emphasized, school going for many a boy and girl would be prolonged.

Children who enter the first grade of our public schools, industrious and zealous, often fall by the wayside, one by one, until 80 per cent of them never reach the eighth grade, but are swallowed up by the stores and factories and various other employments.

It takes the truant officer, the factory inspector, the probation officer, often the Neighborhood house, the Woman's club and other organized bodies to keep a little fellow of the third grade in school.

Educated By the Street.

With all these combined efforts, often they fail, and he is educated by the street instead. Had he been given some constructive activity, some physical occupation, some systematic training with tools and materials in his hands, he might have been kept in school.

The results of this organized thinking would enable him to glean from his elementary school education at least the knowledge of the difference between a trained and an untrained hand, and he could begin to learn as a boy things he must do as a man if he is to succeed.

Manual training in the form of cooking and sewing is just as important for girls, for they must be trained as home-makers either to do or direct other to do. Many a home is a wreck today through the crude, futile efforts of an inefficient wife and mother to properly prepare or have prepared food and clothing for her family.

Continued mental work alone is irksome to most children. Were the hands taught to manipulate as the mind evolves the successive steps which grow more and more intricate as they advance, there could be given to these lives, filled with the graciousness of youth and promise, a larger understanding and appreciation of true art, and the public would have more faith in the efficiency in the true education of their children.

Need of Supervision.

In Louisville there is great need for special supervisors in the public schools. The supervisor of occupations and industrial work is the supervisor of primary grades. The superintendent is in favor of appointing a special industrial supervisor, but for lack of money the school board is compelled to refuse to do it.

These conditions crowd the work of this dual supervisors to such an extent that the teachers meet her only four or five times a year for instruction, and though she is a trained industrial teacher and supervisor these cramped and limited opportunities fail to give the proper results in manual training in the elementary schools. This work is in the first four grades only, and but one hour a week is given to it. New York gives two hours a week, Indianapolis three hours, Rochester, N. Y., gives daily lessons, besides Cincinnati, Chicago, Cleveland, St. Louis and all western cities give full time and to all grades.

The colored pupils of Louisville are far in advance of the white pupils in industrial education, because experience has shown it to be the most successful training for this race; yet it has never been demonstrated that the white race does not need industrial and mechanical training as much as the negro.

The proposed new industrial school for colored students, a branch of Berea, with a fund of $400,000 for building and endowing it, is greatly desired by the public, to be located near Louisville.

Some of the retarded progress of this work in the city white schools is due to the opposition which comes from teachers, who plead lack of time for this additional work, and the crowded condition of the primary grades, many rooms containing from fifty to eighty pupils. Opposition also comes from many illiterate parents, who think education consists only of reading, writing and arithmetic.

Training Begins Early.

In the Louisville public schools industrial work begins in the first grade with clay modeling, used in illustrating stories, making dishes, etc. In the second grade paper and cardboard work, such as making furniture, book covers, boxes, etc. In the third grade, all sorts of basketry, even working in splints, making market baskets. In the fourth grade, weaving, showing difference in materials used, giving preparations for darning. Sewing is taught through the four grades, so children of 9 or 10 years of age can make and know all the stitches, dressing dolls completely. A pamphlet is issued describing this work, with all materials and directions for teachers.

So far so good. But just when this work begins to be profitable to the students it is eliminated. It should go on during the next four grades and be finished, as it is, in our high schools. Where cardboard houses were made in the second grade, laths could be substituted in the seventh grade, with hammer and nails and tools. Clay modeling could merge into lead castings from a mold. Training could be given in operating and adjusting or repairing the machinery of old bicycles, clocks, motors, etc.

Important local industries should be kept in mind, such as foundries, railroad shops, lumber mills, clothing manufactories, etc., these activities being taught in real shops, in a workmanlike manner.

Hartford, Conn., being the center of great office work, trains most of its office men in its public schools, as a specialty is made of good penmanship and accounting through the entire grades and high school, so their young men are employed at home, and the city is noted for its skilled office forces.

Manual training through the grades in our city need not interfere with the present organization.

Each School Should Have Shop.

Each school should have a shop for boys, the equipment costing about $300. Five of these rooms as centers would be sufficient as a beginning, with special teachers. As the need of more room came, these rooms could grow into buildings. Five kitchens for girls equipped at a cost of $200 or $500 each, with special teachers. Five sewing rooms, with at least six sewing machines in each, with special teachers.

These teachers could be trained at, and taken from the Normal school for girls, and from the Manual Training and Boys' High school for boys, at salaries from $50 to $75 per month.

With supervisors for these teachers to plan and instruct in this work, the present school system need not be disturbed. Special classes could be formed for apt pupils under 14, and trade classes for those over 14.

Mrs. Annie L. Jessup, the supervisor of manual training for the grades in New York City has a salary of $3,500, with twelve or more assistants who supervise in the lower grades and teach in the upper grades, and she has done this work successfully for twenty-five years. She was educated in France, and taught much by her mother-in-law, a German woman, in the skillful use of the needle. A German or French maid learns as a child in school the sewing she does for her mistress in after years. In our own Normal school for girls where young women are trained for teachers, and to be self-supporting, in a class of thirty-six, one only could make a button-hole.

In 1800 a girl's school at Frankfort, Ky., made a specialty of teaching sewing to its pupils. Four generations of women able to do fine hand sewing, was a result of this one school, and this influence will extend through many more generations. How can we neglect so vital a force for public welfare, and individual happiness?

Francis W. Parker, the great exponent of manual training, said: "Expression is essentially doing; it is that toward which all human action moves, and, indeed, should move. The motive of expression impels the soul to its best effort in observation, study and reasoning."

Elderly People Helped Free

The last years of life are the sweetest, and yet the most difficult to prolong. It is then that the greatest care is exercised in maintaining bodily health. But the chief care should always be with regard to the food you eat and whether you are digesting it properly. You should not allow yourself to become constipated.

No doubt you have tried salts and cathartic pills, purgative tablets, etc., and have come to the conclusion that they are violent in action and do but temporary good. Listen, then, to the voice of experience with regard to a wonderful and safe, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is not new, only we are trying to find new friends for it. A. A. Felix, of Johnston City, Ill., suffered from stomach trouble for six years and found his cure in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. His wife used it too with success. We could name hundreds of others. Some heard of it first through neighbors or friends; others through the doctor's offer to send any sufferer from a stomach, liver or bowel complaint a free sample bottle for trial, without charge. If you will send your name and address he will send you a trial bottle direct to your home. If it proves itself as he claims then continue the treatment by buying a 50-cent or $1 bottle of your druggist, as all of them sell it. Old people, like children, should look for purity, and it is well to mention that the purity of this remedy is vouched for by the U. S. government. Also, a free bottle is sent to prove its merits, results are always guaranteed from the regular bottle bought of druggists, who will refund your money if it does not satisfy you. Send at least for the free test bottle today.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 507 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

London Street Names.

The simplification of London's street nomenclature goes quietly on. There are West Enders who are totally unaware that there are Regent streets other than Nash's; Bond streets in such unfashionable neighborhoods as Clerkenwell and Lambeth; that Clerkenwell, like Marylebone, has both its Baker and Upper Baker streets, to the confusion of taxicab drivers and postal authorities. And Suffolk street, which, as all the artistic world knows, is in Pall Mall, has (or had) less presentable namesakes, four of which are now to take on new designations, so that Fulham, Pentonville, Bermondsey and Clerkenwell shall not clash with that Suffolk street where lodged Dean Swift and his Vanessa, and where, as Pepys informs us, Charles II furnished a house most richly for Moll Davis, "which is a most infinite shame." — London Chronicle.

According to Hoyle.

"The expression 'According to Hoyle,' which is so often used by people to verify a statement, even if it does not refer to cards, has a companion among the people of Germany," writes an American from Munich. "Here they say, 'Nach Adam Riese' (according to Adam Riese) when the statement is to be considered mathematically correct. The name is that of a 'great man at figures,' who laid down study rules hundreds of years ago which are still followed. His 400th birthday was unnoted on March 30 even at Anneberg, where he died in 1659."

FIND STARS BY THE MILLION.

Scientists Expect to Show 30,000,000 or 40,000,000 on Map.

Paris, April 22.—The international congress which is engaged in making a photographic map of the skies is devoting much attention to the planet, or asteroid, Eros, which plays an important role in the measurement of stellar distances. The map is expected eventually to show between 30,000,000 and 40,000,000 stars.

The French astronomer, M. Renard, says that the results already attained prove that great activity reigns in the stellar world; that everything is movement.

"Ultimately," he continues, "we have the right to believe that we gradually will reach an exact knowledge of the mystery of the constitution of the universe."

Antoine Henri Becquerel, the physicist, has reported before the Academy of Sciences a most interesting demonstration of the life of seeds. Submitted to very powerful life-destroying tests, drying in a vacuum at a temperature of 253 below zero, they retain their germinating force. The conclusion drawn by M. Becquerel is that life is not a mysterious principle, but a simple physical and chemical function of an organism produced by the substances and forces of its cosmic environment.
